Introduction

Pegasus, the great white horse, flies across the evening skies. Below Pegasus is a lush green island surrounded by gentle wavelets. It is Pegasus's home, and it offers the promise of quiet rest.

Suddenly, there is a great howl and furor from the island across the bay. The noise comes from behind a rocky mountain top, deep in a dense forest. Within that stony region, dark caves hold their frightening secrets.

The noise continues until the island and the seas around it pulse with the sound — and then there is silence. An eerie quiet settles over the darkening mountain as the first shadows of doom take shape.

Out of the cave flies a dreaded Midnight Mare (the blackest of evil horses) ridden by the fearsome Phantom Rider. The horse and rider are joined by another and then another of these fearsome pairs.

With a frightening snort, Pegasus leaps to the sky and swoops down upon the first Rider. Pegasus kicks it with a powerful hoof, dashing it swiftly to the ground and destruction. But the Phantom does not fear death. He knows that he can return to life if his grave is not destroyed.

Again and again Pegasus draws back to fly across the sky and prepare for another attack wave. Again and again Pegasus destroys the Phantom Riders.

In order to destroy them all, Pegasus must fly closer and closer to the Phantoms' island, farther from the safety of his own home shore. The "kraken" monster comes frequently to the surface of the sea. The fire breathing water monsters protect Phantom Island and their unearthly flying brothers. Pegasus has many enemies.

But Pegasus has many friends too. You, and if you wish a friend, can help Pegasus use his strength and power to vanquish his enemies and combat the evil of Phantom Mountain.

Caution, choose your friends carefully, and Good Luck!
Required Equipment

- Tandy® Color Computer (minimum of 64K)
- Disk Drive and Cable
- Joystick

Optional Equipment

- Multi-Pak Interface
- Sound/Speech Cartridge
- Second Joystick

Getting Started

1. It is always advisable to make a backup of the diskette that comes with a program, store the original in a safe place, and use the copy. To make a backup, see the instructions in Appendix A.

2. Choose channel 3 or 4 on the antenna switchbox, and choose the matching channel on the monitor.

3. Turn on the computer.

4. Turn on the disk drive.

5. Insert a joystick cable into the right joystick port. You can also insert a second joystick into the left joystick port for a second player.

6. Insert a backup of the Pegasus and the Phantom Riders diskette into Drive 0, and type:

   DOS [ENTER].
7. The program loads automatically, and the copyright and score screen appears. Examine the title PEGASUS AND THE PHANTOM RIDERS. If the letters are blue, the sky in the scenes that follow will be blue. If the letters are red, the scenes will have a sunset red sky. You can press reset until the title turns blue. After a brief pause, you can choose the number of players for this game.

8. Move the joystick left to choose 1 player and right to choose 2 players, or press 1 or 2 on the keyboard. Be sure that both joysticks are properly connected before choosing 2 players.

9. Press the device button when your choice of number of players is underlined.

10. If you choose 2 players, each player controls a separate Pegasus. The two players can cooperate with each other or be rivals. In duel mode the players can destroy each other’s Pegasus as well as destroy the Phantom Riders.

    If you choose 2 players, move the joystick to choose DUEL or COOPERATE MODE. Press the button when the correct choice is underlined.

During the game you may press BREAK to pause and examine a scene. Press ENTER to resume the game.

If you wish to re-start the game, press R and you will return to the screen where you choose the number of players.

For instructions on using the Multi-Pak Interface and the Sound/Speech Cartridge for more realistic sound and audible messages, see Appendix B.
Playing the Game

The first screen appears, and the game begins as soon as you have made your player choices.

Phantom Island is in the distance. The water still appears calm although the circling sharks hint at what lies ahead. Pegasus stands on the shore. His friend stands with him (if you have chosen 2 players). Off in the distance a shadow no larger than a bat appears. It gets larger and larger and becomes a Phantom Rider.

An attack indicator appears on the screen:

WAVE 1   PHASE 1: DISCOVERY

Each time Pegasus has destroyed all the Phantom Riders the attack Wave number increases. You go from Wave 1, to Wave 2, to Wave 3 and so on. At each Wave there are new Phantom Riders. There is no limit to the number of Waves of attacks as long as Pegasus lives. Pegasus has 5 lives when the game begins. The countdown begins as soon as the game starts. The life indicator shows that Pegasus has 4 more lives in addition to the one he is using. When Pegasus has lost his last life, the game is over.

There are 3 phases. Each phase takes you closer to Phantom Island. At Phase 1, "Discovery," Phantom Island is in the far distance. When the third attack Wave begins, you enter Phase 2. This phase, called "Outer Defenses," is closer to the island. You can begin to see the mountain top and a hint of the dark and eerie caves, but be sure to watch out for the seas around you. Phase 3, "Home Base" is at the very entrance to the lagoon. Pegasus occasionally flies into the inner lagoon. Be aware that menacing creatures are all around you now. Pegasus can be killed by a Phantom Rider, by a fireball, a carnivorous plant, or by drowning.

Pegasus must destroy all the Phantom Riders and their graves before he can leave a Wave area.

The computer controls the Phantom Riders, the monsters of the sea, and the speed of the game. You control Pegasus by moving the joystick left and right to change his direction. You press the button repeatedly to make Pegasus fly. Keep a steady rhythm to maintain the height of Pegasus’s flight. If two people are playing, Pegasus and his friend are each controlled in the same way, with separate joysticks. Pegasus can destroy the Phantom Riders, and their graves, by kicking them with his powerful hooves. Use caution here: if a plant grows from a grave, it is carnivorous and will destroy Pegasus if he touches it. But, if you leave it alone, it dies back to the ground.

Be careful; your friend can become a foe, even in COOPERATE MODE. When DUEL WAVE appears on the screen, be prepared to battle your friend for survival and 30000 points.

Scoring

The bottom of the screen displays information about the highest previous score, the number of lives that Pegasus has left, and the current score.

9000 3
HIGH: 050000 4 1200

LIVES AND SCORE

The life indicator on the screen starts at 4. Each time Pegasus is struck by a Phantom or a fireball, gets eaten by a carnivorous plant, or drowns in the sea the life indicator diminishes by 1.

Your score is indicated on the screen. Each time you kill a Phantom Rider or destroy a grave you receive points. If you can survive the inner lagoon, you receive a large bonus. Your total score is indicated in the score box.
When two people are playing, their lives and totals are figured separately.

Knock a Phantom Rider off his horse 200 Points
Destroy a grave 300 Points
Catch a fallen Phantom Rider 700 Points
Be the lone survivor of the lagoon 3000 Bonus Points
Outlast your opponent in duel wave 3000 Bonus Points

Press the button when you see GAME OVER. You see a score record with the 5 highest levels of scores. If you score higher than any recorded level, your score replaces that level and is marked with a. For example:

Write your initials where indicated by a. As you type your first initial, the a moves to the right indicating where to write your second initial. When the a moves again, write your third initial. Press the space bar to move the cursor to the correct starting position if you wish to use only 1 or 2 initials. You can also use the joystick, by moving it up and down, to write your initials. The letter changes from the displayed initial.
