

SEA QUEST
A MARK DATA PRODUCTS HI-RES ADVENTURE GAME

You adventure fans will be thrilled with this addition to the Mark Data Products hi-res graphic adventure series. Get your shark repellent and scuba tanks ready! Much of the action in this unique treasure hunt takes place under the sea and the color graphics are truly sensational.

The computer is your guide and will interpret all of your two word commands which should be entered as a verb plus a noun.

EXAMPLES: To pick up a box you might try GET BOX.
To learn more about the box try EXAMINE BOX.
To open a locked door try UNLOCK DOOR.
To move North try GO NORTH.

As you travel through your adventure, hi-res graphic pictures will display your surroundings. To move from one location to another, check to see if obvious directions are listed. Compass directions may not be your only choices however, and you should check all available options.

I have a sizable vocabulary of verbs and nouns so you can be creative in your choice of instructions. If one phrase doesn't work, try another approach. To speed play I also understand a number of command abbreviations:

COMMAND	ABBREVIATION	COMMAND	ABBREVIATION
Go North	N	Go Down	D
Go South	S	Get	G
Go East	E	Put	P
Go West	W	Take Inventory	I
Go Up	U	Look	L

In addition, there are commands to pick up and drop several objects simultaneously. The GET ALL command will pick up all objects in your current location (provided you can carry them all) and the PUT ALL command will do the reverse. Some items or objects may not be displayed on the screen so be sure to check the text description at each location for a listing of everything visible. It is a good idea to EXAMINE each object for clues and valuable information.

If your search for the solution to this puzzle takes longer than planned, you may use the SAVE GAME command to save your progress on a cassette tape. Use the LOAD GAME command at a later time to resume play.

The SCORE command provides you with the number of moves used during play. The SCORE, LOAD and SAVE commands do not count as moves.

The best advice for adventure gaming is to be logical and try to think of all options. Maintaining a constant curiosity with a careful eye to detail will help you to win the game in a minimum number of moves.

PREPARATION FOR PLAY

Install the cassette in your recorder, type CLOADM and press ENTER. Press play on the recorder and the computer will load the program. Loading is complete when you see the OK prompt on the screen. Type EXEC and press ENTER to start the game.

If you have the disc version, install it in your drive, type LOADM"SEAQUEST" and press ENTER. Type EXEC and press ENTER after loading is finished. NOTE: Type LOADM"SEAQUEST.BAK" to load the backup copy.

Some colors may be reversed when you start this program because it uses hi-res graphics. The game should start with a totally blue screen. If the screen is red, press and release the computer RESET button (at the right rear) until it changes to blue. Now press any key to start your adventure.
